Who is Chilewich?

Designer Sandy Chilewich founded Chilewich in 2000 out of a passion for transforming underutilized materials and manufacturing processes into products that are both beautiful and useful.

Sandy's partner, architect Joe Sultan, joined the company in 2001 to help realize the potential for woven textiles in the A&D world.

We design and manufacture:

- Broadloom flooring (Rolls)
- Modular flooring (Tiles and Planks)
- Wall textiles
- Upholstery fabric
- Window coverings
- Rugs
- Tufted "Shag" floor mats
- Worktop
- Placemats, runners, and coasters

Creative Director Kristin Harris oversees a talented team of designers in our NYC studio.

Our studio is where we develop every Chilewich product. It's a place of creative experimentation and iteration, of reimagining and refining.

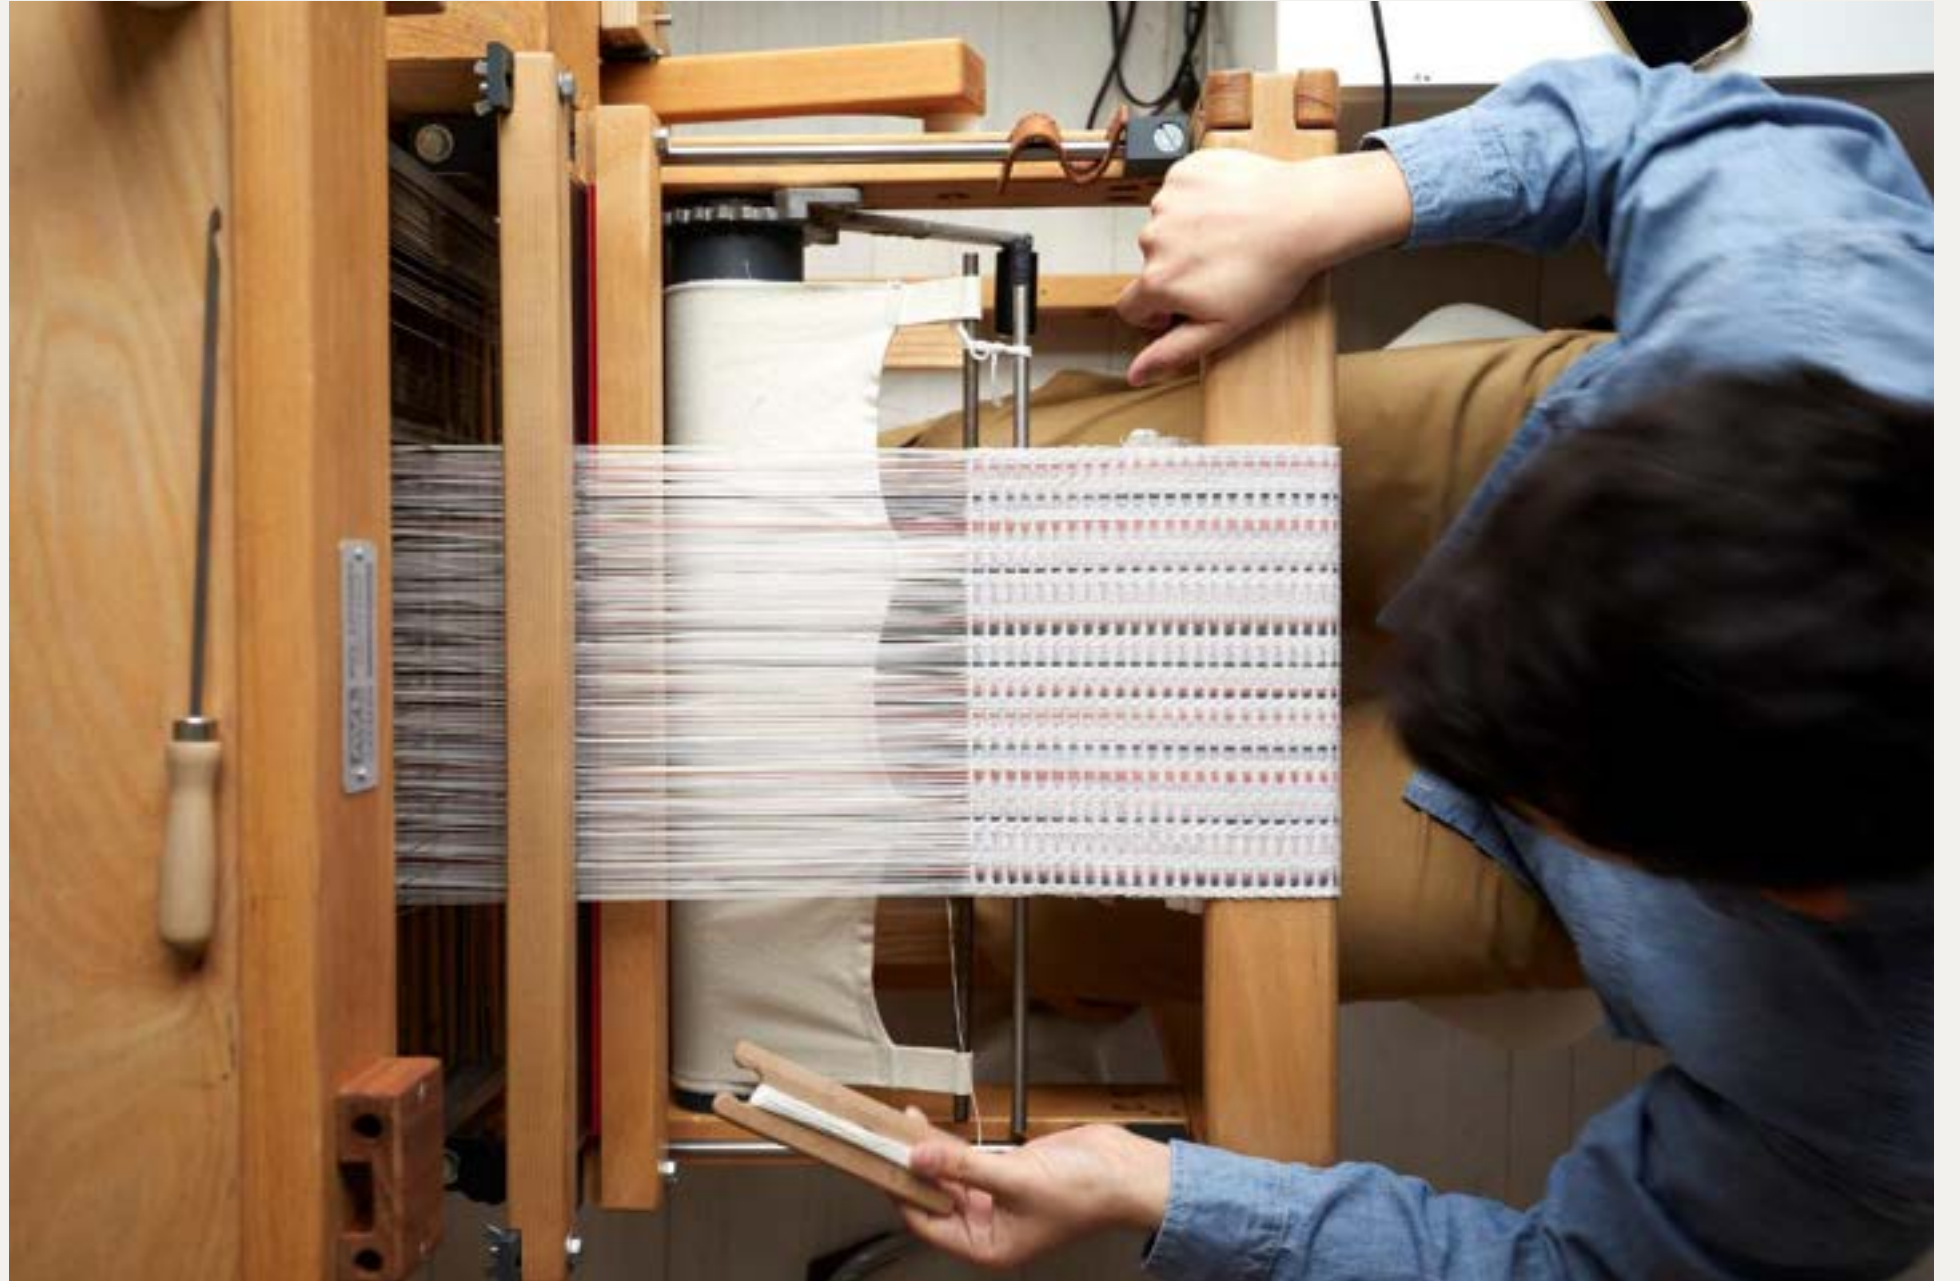

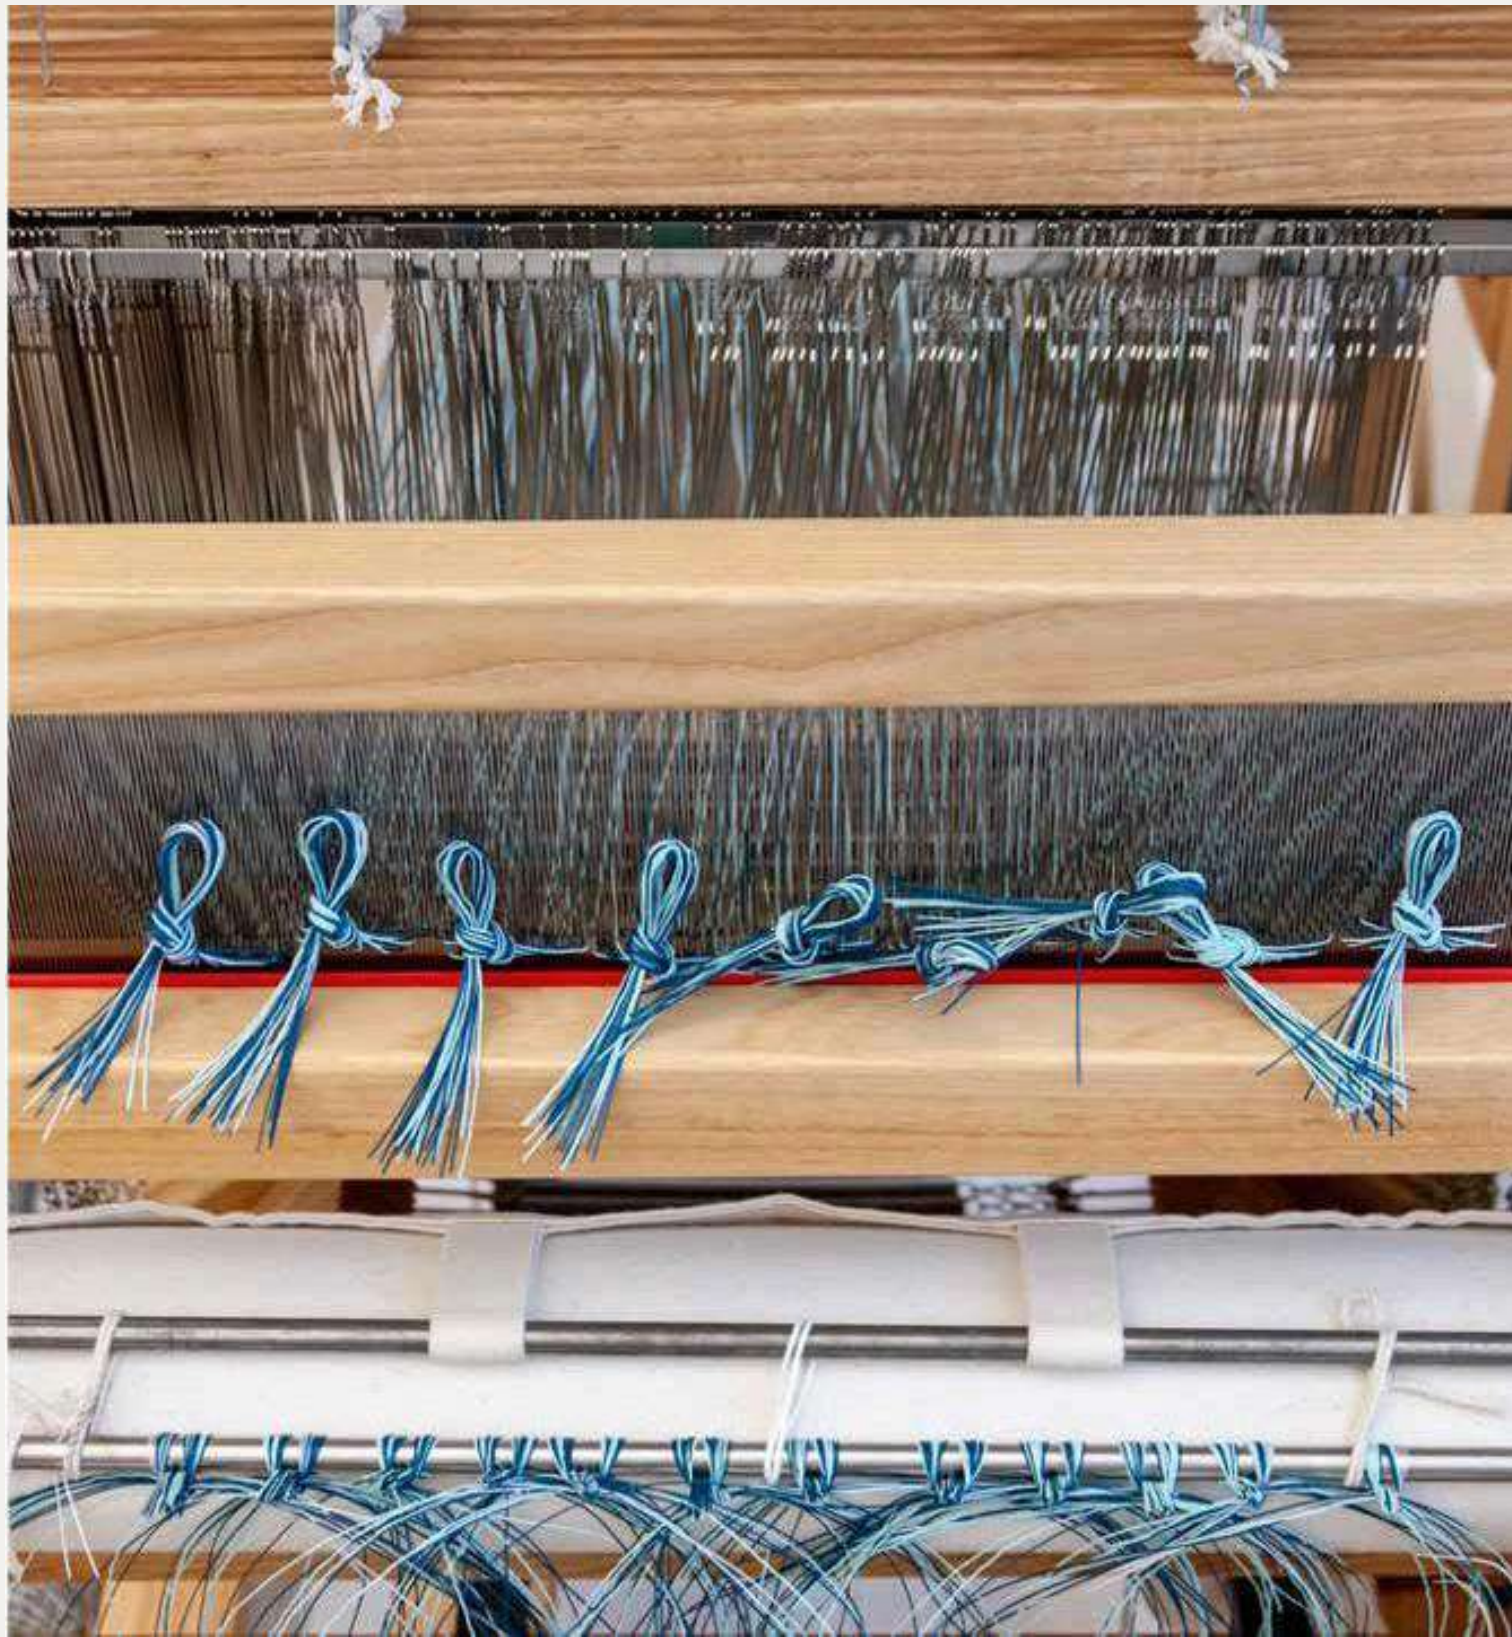

First and foremost, we are textile designers.

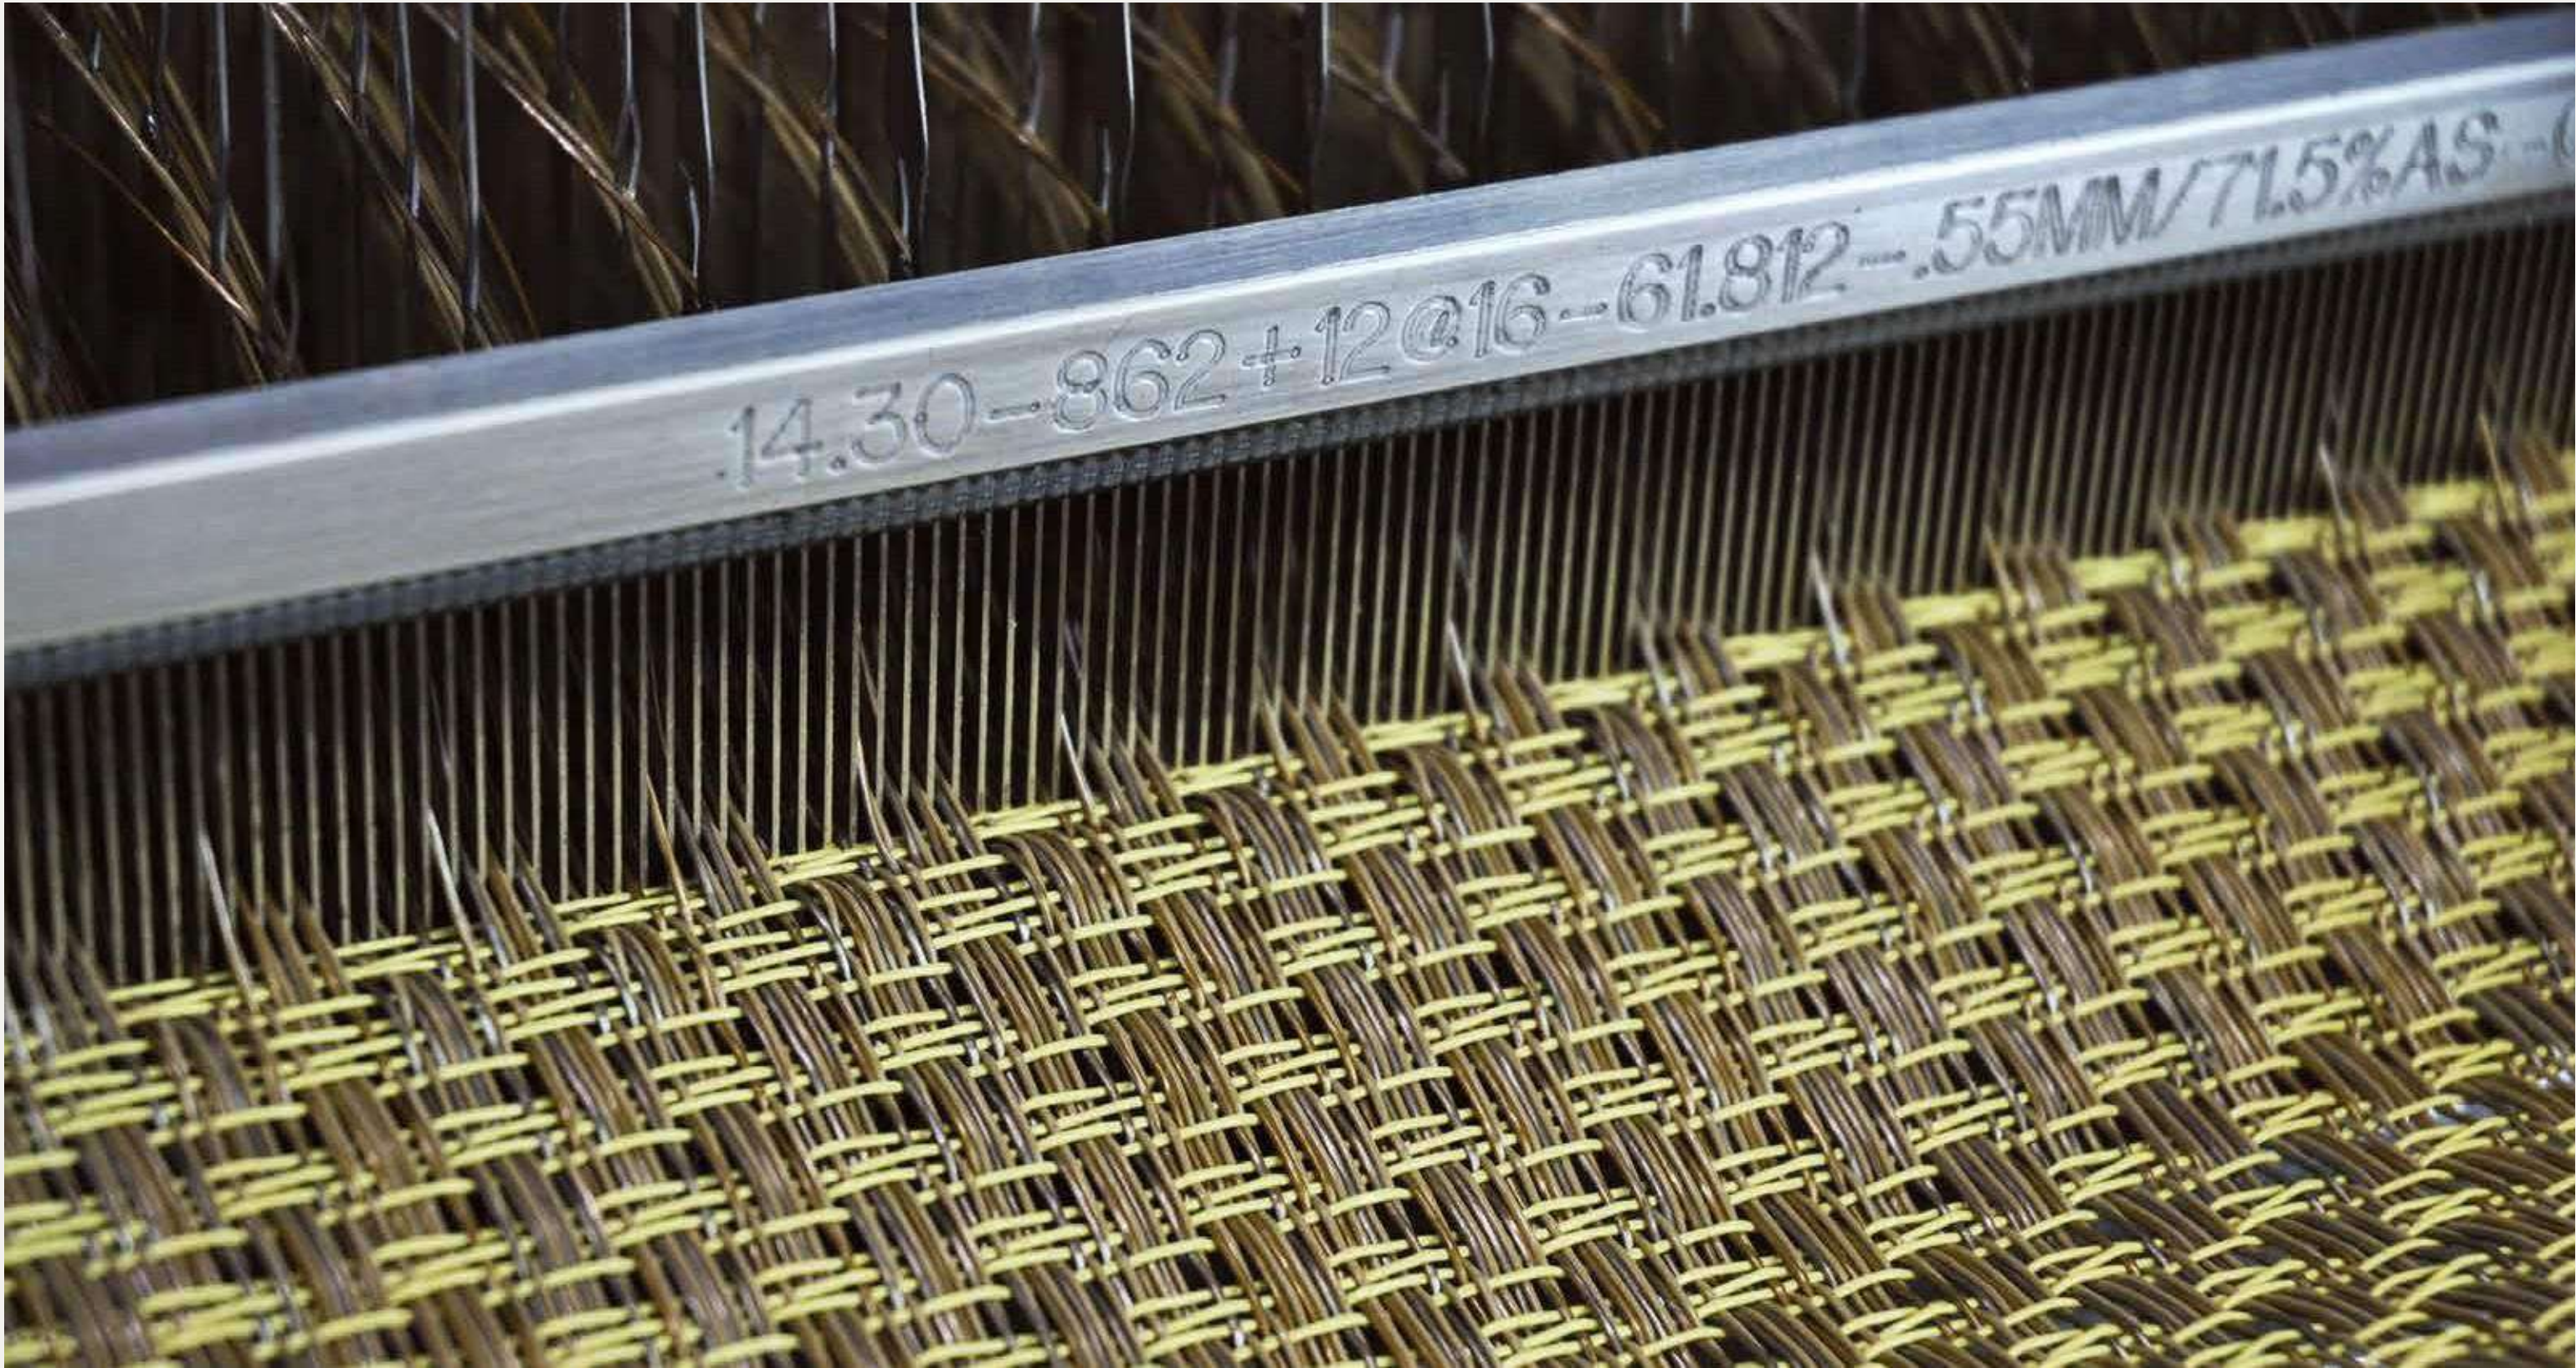

Woven in the USA

At the same mill where we have been weaving since 2000.

And woven into our original textiles.

Rolls of our textiles are transformed into finished products finished at the Chilewich factory in Chatsworth, Georgia.

78 unique weaves
and counting!
